- MAY 24, 1856

1. The mob organ begins to shrick out again for the aid of his ent-throats, as he did previous to the last Angust election. Foreigners are coming from the old world, or about to come, in vast multitudes, and they are coming to rule the country. They have begun to "avow boldly and exultingly their determination, peaceably if they can, and forcibly if they must," to control our federal and State governments. They are going "to rule or rain;" and " by a desecration of the ballot-box, or, if necessary, at the point of the bayonet, to teach native here citizens that the foreign population have the power here, and will exercise i for their own aggrandizement, and for the degradation of the sone of the soil." These are but necimens of a column or two; and to enforce it he gives a lying account of the government of Chicago, Cincinuati, New York, and Albany. For eigners and Catholics have gotten the police o these cities, and are perpetrating ontrages npon American citizens. The consequence of all this is, that natives and Protestants are " to feel that a deep degradation rests upon them in their own land. They will find themselves treated as in ferior cases. They, or at least the more timid o them, wi'l scarcely dare to acknowledge themselves natives and Protestants " Then, in conclusion, the creature rolls up the whites of his pious eyes and exclaims: "May God in his mercy aver: euch a day !"

Nobody hat a fool or a fanatio will, for a mo ment, heed such infismmatory and incendiary statements. They are false in general and in de teil, and knavish in purpose and object. Lonisville has had enough, certainly, of this vile slarg She has tasted its bitter feuds, and paid a heavy penalty. Here we have announced to us a contesof races. The struggle is to degrade one or the other, the native or the foreigner, the Protestant or the Catholio. All know that this process can not go on in peace; the end cannot he reached without blood; and these incendiary appeals deserve the execration of all mankind. That there is the slightest necessity for such a contest is a monstrous lie, gotten up to serve the purposes of the vilest demagagnes. It is false that foreigners are either arsuring or obtaining power. It is false that they claim any consideration over others or that they anywhere obtain it. If the editor of the Journal dured to tell his readers who obtained the government of those cities to which he refers and against whom they obtained it, his out-spew ing might go in Kentucky-unanswered. In Chipage, the contest was between the Demograte and Abalitionists-the former won the victory. The Kentuckians who had become citizens of Chicago voting with the friends of the South. The city i now under the control of the national party, and it is the party that is abused in the Journal as the party of foreigners. Kentuckians, mark that The editor abuses Chicago under the pretext tha foreigners control it; but the true reason is, that bis friends, the Abolitionists, were beaten .- Tha is what is the matter with the editor. The very same is true of Cincinnati, New York, and Al bany. The Abelitionists were routed in thercities. The contest was not upon nativism; i was between the friends of the constitution an the rights of the South, and Abolitionists. The former succeeded, and the Abilitionist at the head of the Jurnal dies not assail the successful party on the real issue that placed them in power it would not do to touch that; but he raves abou fureigners, when, in fact, the question of nativi-m had but lit le to do with the contest in most of these cities. It was white men against niggerian and it is quite rational that the editor of the Journal should go for the woolley tribe; hat he must do so on false pretenses. You, the people of Kentucky, are to be taugh to peddle out the vituperations of the Journa against your own friends in the free States, undethe name of the foreign party. The editor hathe impudence to quo e as an herity the Albany Statesman, a vile sectional, Abolition sheet. Its statements are to be authority here in Kenincky against the friends of the South. If these cities are governed by foreigners, they are the friends of this section of the Union, and have obtained power on that issue.

But it is a great matter, it is thought, that for eigners are policemen in these cities. If they should be hod carriers or street cleaners, in our judgment their positions would be quite as high. It is but lately that such petty offices have been regarded as above the common employments of men. Watching property and persons day and night, and catching rogues, is not an explied position. The common soldier occupies about the came grade, if grades must be matters of grave interest these times. But here in Lonisville we have had native-born policemen, and what was the result on the slx's of August last? They were charged with the protection of persons and property, and how did they perform the duty? It is a rich idea that s Know-Nothing organ in this city should scribble about the police of our neighboring cities. It they are worse anywhere than here, they must be had no such mobs as we have bad. They have maintaiged the supremacy of the law, and are reaping the reward of their good hebavior in their unexampled prosperity. The state ents of the bigots. Journal are more calumnies; but they are not worth contradicting. There cities that are here denounced occupy a proud position compared with ours, and may well read with our empt oriticisms from the mob organ on the r mode of government Louisville has a police well paid. They cor egough, but they don't prevent our voters from being driven from the polis, nor the slanghter of our citizens, nor the resiting of men and women in their own honece. Any sort of police is better than such as we have had. Firm, honest, resolute man, native or foreign born, are wanted; and a city that wishes to he well and wisely governed will look to the character of the man, and not to the place of his hir:h, or his religiou, when a police offi or is to be appointed. It is not surprising that foreigners should be police officers and soldiers. There are few of the native-born fit for such positions, that are not otherwise engaged. They find better employment than watching cities day and night, catching rognes, cleaning streets, digging canals, building railroads, &c. These bogus Americ ans are crazy after every little offi e. They think holding office the chief end of man. if it consists only in carrying a stick, pelting onre picking a pasts on the street, and supplying Thomas with boarders.

This looks like ruling, and is an object of high ambition with a party that is organized expressly to get spoils. Their envy is explted if they re one Irishman engaged in the exalted employment of hauling adrunkard on a dray toward the corner of Sixth and Jefferson. With what high and of that of '93, sits broading over the authorities of secreful digary can the watchman look down, as he hanls away his lead of most and rum, upon the man who eweeps the streets, and rolls up boxes on totype, it produced its violence and blo dehed

Great matter, indeed, is this thing of police offices It stirs the editor of the mob organ down to his boots, to think that foreigners should hold o strong as to ignore the truth naser oath, and them. We have never took the trouble to inquire dictate perjury -obligations to break the ties of who are the police of the c ties fu question, but equal justice when the interdict of race or religion they keep the peace, catch and purish the regues, applies—such men are justly suspected of parand that is a good deal better than has been done tiallty in the administration of justice and the prohera. It would be well for this city to have such tection of rights, and confidence in equal justice a police as they have and she had better import tofore the law, and the protection of the law, has some, if she can't find a better here than we had find. The great fountain of public justice is last year. We could n't do worse with Irish, broken up, and the degraded class rely only upon Detro, or anything else with a white skin, than craving or violence to protest them. Wast a state we have done with a bogue American police. of things for American civilization in the nine-But vast orowds of foreigners are coming, we are teenth century!

ship owners. We don't think Americans of com-The Democratic party North is the only one fight- | Christ, prohibition was thus onacted: ing the battles of the South; they alone support the territorial policy that is now assailed by the combined forces of Abolitionism: and they are se pording to the mob organ, the foreign party, whilst the mass of the Abolition fanaties are the peculiar Americans. They are dreadfully afraid of the foreigners vote the Democratic ticket, and help de feat the schemes of the Abolition agicators. This is what is the matter with the editor of the Jonr ual. Those cities he denonnees are under Democratic rule, sgainst Abolition rule. These for eigners have not supported his friends, the Abeli cionists. He calculates largely on the ignorance of his readers. If they knew the party in power in those cities, and their opponents, they would not tolerale this ahnse. Remember, Kentuckians, it is your friends that have the power in Chicago, ncinnati, New York, and Albany. They gained power by the defeat of Abolitionists. Such is the eclectic virtue by legislative penalties. Foreignparty shased here in Louisville, and vilified as the foreign party.

But, who injures Louisville? Let any one reathe rabid ontpourings of the Journal. They proclaim a war of races, and abound in the most infiammatory and incendiary suggestions. He warns natives of their approaching degradation under foreign domination. Foreigners are not raving now, they are arrogant and explant. They and the Catholics are siming for the power ernsh out natives and Protestants. This is br the bugle note to the ent-throats to be on hand to wreak vengeance on their alleged enemiee. O onrse, if this is the tone of Lonisville, foreigner will not come to this city, nor will those slay who can get away. It is a distinct notice of what is t be expected here at every contest-a war of races followed up by scenes similar to those we have passed through. This, too, comes from an editor who got upon his knees, crawled on his belly, and licked the feet of foreigners and Catholies in 1852 for the sake of their votes. He was distracte with zeel and foror against the proscription o Catholics. Now, to get power, he is ready summon the vilest passions to vengesnes on the wo classes of our citizens. He loads them with calumnies, proclaims them enemies, striving to de grade Protestants and natives, and pretends to ap prehend the most imminent dargers. Now, w warn the people of Louisville again, that this vil nfiammatory stuff will lead to blood, and riot, an disorder. They have suffered enough; but here i the foreshadowings of a repetition of the same onds that have brought disgrees and shame upon his city. We were told the other day that Ger mans, ente prising hasiness men, were returning ake the conseduences of the proclamation of war renewed by the m h organ. If the people of this city are not sottishly ignoraut of their own interest, they will sparn this incendiary appeal as they would the plague. They have read such things before, and seen their conse

The Trio of Fanaticisms.

This is the era of fanaticioms. Though appr ently diverse, they are holding revelry with mal entent politicians for a common object - the lefeat of the Democracy, and a common spoil, the fices of the conn'ry.

The anti-slavery foror may be the oldest, but win fury, prohibition, sped with equal tilt from the icehannel nor h to emhittee the recindices of men, and tyrannize, by legislation, on the habit of social life. Like the it fluer ga, this spread over the northern portion of our Union noder the quis moral reform, and no antidote seemed sufficie o check the poison.

The courts of justice seemed fearful of encour ering the tide, lest they should lose their reputation as supporters of moral reform. Ideas, linked by close analogy, to the tyrannons edicts of despotsm, when disguised in the treacherons and de ceptive covering of moral reform, and heralded by churches and churchmen, were more viotorious "han "an army with banners." Thus was ushered forth the Maine Law, with its Neal Down governmental liquor agencies or grog shops, and the resulting evacions of statutes, mobs and riots Know-Nothingism spring from a more fithy enree, and hearaged with more vulgar and blinding fauaticlam. Lavoking prejudices of race and religion, that have run riot over the darker age of the world's history, and rolled down to the darker pit before the light of civilization; every valgar and selfish passion seemed awakened to new life, in the catching cry of "Americans raling America." No harrier seemed sufficient to stay these rushing projudices, and the great landmarks of philanthropy handed down as fixtures and heirlooms of American independence and liberty seemed about to give way to the vandal enslaugh worthy of feudal exclusiveness, bigotry and persecution, and the "no-Popery" riots of our imme liate mother country. These latter were exceeded in the new combinations of superstiti u and fanatiism. Our people seemed, for a time, to have forgotten the ennobling philanthropy spread through inr institutions by their peerless founders.

While American liberty, departing from narrow boundaries, was a faith and doctrine for all devotees of whatever birth, race, or religion, and gnered all questions of family or nativity, while it spoke manfully to the world its faith; a scere truly coutemptible. Our neighboring cities have onth-hound organization brought from its caverus, as from the chilling gloom of the infernal regions. the bitter prejudices of selfishness, the proscriptions of Pharisaism, and the demoniac fury of American liberty was lnaughrated for me a ble purposes. Christianity in life and practice ad, then, a better footbold in the sympathics of men. Their own wrongs, then, awakened their thoughts to the wrongs of others; their own swelling desire for the free exercise of individual rights ombraced in its broad circle the rights of every sesociate in a common devotion, and they broke the harriers of British power that all might labor with equal safeguard in the great field of a com son country and a common civilization. Here was planted the liberty of the Athenian Demo macy, and the philanthropy of the Christian dispensation-love to one's neighbor and individual reedom. These two effulgent jewels were combined in the coronet of American independence Manliness and truth were also cultivated and cherished. The "wily Greek" was not the model but the stardy northman and the hiuff truth sooken Saxon.

Saddenly all these antecedents are ignored, and secreey in the plainest and most ontepoken dutles of civil 1 fe, is installed in the gloom of midnight odges under the brigand awe of impions oaths. Suddenly hosts of manly freem-n are converted into sneaking, groveling runners of the mysteriou shibboleth "Sam," and mon pride themselves in systeries and traps to overturn the polition of their fellows, and rule with the secret tyranny o Venice from the dark fountains of a power and authority unknown to the laws of the laud. A sew Jacobinism, without the excuse or palliatler the land. York city, where foreigners nearly all land, report its analogies to the moral reform functicism of about twenty-five thousand this year, up to the prohibition. The two first appeared together. first of this month, landed at that port; and the When the Hindoo code of laws and religion esemigrants brought with them about a million of tablished the doctrine of oastes and contemptuous dollars, beside what they pald for passage to our exclusion of foreigners, it also taught the lesser higotry of prohibition. The punishments under mon sense object to the capital, the skill, and the the Hindoo codes are by transmigration of souls to labor thus imported; and as to their votes, the a lower order of heing. By the Hindoo "Code of people of the South should be the last to object. Menu," promulgated about 1800 years before

"A Brahmin who drinks spirituous liquors will migrate in the form of a worm or fly, feeding on ordare or some other ravenous animal."

The two ravaged with equal pace, through differ ent grades of enormity, the quiet and peace of the northern section of our country. The two were Pope and foreigners. Their reason is, that these heralded and sanctioned by the Prolestant, and specially by the Paritan clergy. The self-sanctified eleot plunged into the brigand caverns of Know-Nothingism, and took impious oaths with now system. rowdies and bullies steaming from drnnken exesses, and then held forth from their pulpits igainst the enormities of intoxicating liquors and the "despotism of king alcohol." The special patterns of sanctification revelled between the temerance pulpits and the Know-Nothing densin all the pious zeal of fanalicism.

Christianity, heretofore producing reforms by eason and example, must now dictate morals and ers must be punished by exclusion and persecuti for the misfortunes of hirth-place; the right of property destroyed in spirituous liquors, because of their occasional abase, and that a fancied code f health designated them as polsonons.

Extremes of practice were combined in this muual foray of fanaticism—the ascetio and the drunkard, the ontward Pnritan and the inner oundrel, combined under one requisite of proessions and pretenses to the entire neclect of conduct and practices. Men were no longer to be known "by their fruits," hat by their professions. The usual result followed, that the strongest rofessions emanated from the most thorough he most sonorous sanctity. The era of fanaticism the Holy Ghost." Preaching also at 4 o'clock, r. ccame an epoch of fraud and deception.

Hence the American order so called became the rev of every scheme of speculation and amhition. n spite of oaths it was rent asnuder to build up he fortunes of anti-slavery politicians at the North, and in every State, where it predominated, ncreased expenses swelled she public harthens and axes, new hanks and other schemes of corporate seculation were chartered, and the fraternity unier oath was often broken asunder by the leaden weight of money. Where principle could not reak down the order, selfish interests preyed npon es vampire spirit and dissolved it.

The interests of prohibition were often sold out the liquor agencies, and a wide flow of the conraband article resulted from the purchase of the rawling advocates of its extinction or "wiping nt." Their selfishness soon yielded to the tempations around them, and the families and cliques of the professed fanaties, became the monopolists o this city Here is a notice for them to leave, or of a pretended contrahand.

The support of the bogus Americans required also the lubricating influence of stimulants to the nalive vagahonds engaged in "ruling America." The great importance of rnling, blinded the vision to the means

WASHINGTON, May 13, 1856. My DRAR Sir: I received your note just as I was reparing to resume my speech, and therefore could of answer you then. Your informant is in er-or. All I said was to present precisely the view

I have just looked it over, and I find I have said thing of your denial of the power. It refers to our opinion that Congress has no right to control e domestic relations, and introduces a quotation om your article of 1847, in which you deny the be domestic relations ower of Congress to introduce slavery into the ferritories. If I can get a proof copy of that each of my remarks this afternoon, I will send it you; but, I repeat, the viows I have presented of the question are little more than a repetition of my views in 1850.

l am, dear sir, truly yours, LEWIS CASS. HON. JOHN M. LEAN.

THE LOUISVILLE KIOTS .- The Louisville Daily mocrat, we are pleased to see, does not sparhe instigators of the riot that disgraced that city tast year. Its severe and continued outigation of the press and individuals that instigated it, is vorthy of all commendation. In his course an discupt has been made to intimidate the editor by withdrawing from the columns of the Democrat dvertisements, and by curtailing his subscripti fiet. But never was tailure so aignel as this dying fort of Louisville Know-Nothingism. For every withdrawal of advertising patronage or subscription, that paper has reaped a ten-fold reward; and ne prescriptionists have been left to mourn at their

Not long since a magnificent silver pilcher was presented to the editor of the Democrat for his zeal and service in exposing and denouncing the "Lonisville Rist," and rioters, not omitting those who indire tly aided, abetted, and have since at tempted to justify the bloody marders enacted in that once hospitable and chivalric city. The following is an inscription on the pitcher

A Tribute of Respect.

JOHN H. HARNEY, Editor of the Democrat.

And his bold defense of law and order against bigotry and lawlessness.

At the same time, we see it stated, that the and some sum of Five Hundred Dollars was also bresented for the use of the "Democrat." Such lemonstrations on the part of citizens of Lonis for the tuture. No one need doubt that an independent press, with such a man at its head as John H. Harney, and with the danniless party by whom he is cheered on in his work of reform, will sail in its off my. With trnth, justice, and right all on his side, we look with pleasure to the day when Lonisville shall stand redeemed, regenera-ted, disenthralled, from the dark lantern bullice and butchera that deluged so recently that only which the blo d of nonfinding men, women, and children — Atlanta (In) Francisco hildren .- Atlanta ( Ga ) Framiner.

PROSCRIPTIVE .- We learn from that stannch aper, the Lausville Democrat, that the Knowthings of that ony, not satisfied in heaping ruin and disgrace upon it, are now end avoring to crush those who dare publish to the world their intol crance and the crimes which characterized the Know-Nothings on the 6th of last August. The misville Democrat is singled ont for destruction it is too out-spoken and truthful to suit the taste of the Louisville rioters, or rather those who in-done their hellish acts. These gentlemen will find when it is too late that their efforts in trying to wantage and to the press will redound to their own desat-vantage and to the presserity of the press they would proscribe. What good Democrat would purchase anything of morehants, who lent their ouny aid in patting down a man for speaking the tratti pealy, boldy, without fear favor or affec-tion, as the stemeorat has done and we trust will continue to do? The proceedings in the Senate on this subject was brief, digmind and caim. In the House it galleries were densely crowded. An impression is prevailing that many members were prepared for any emergency, and that serious consequences might accordingly result. There was only a limited debate on the question of privilege—none involving the general merits of the case, nor was there any exhibition of angry feeling. The minerity, however, complained that they had no opportunity for discussion.

In the House au unprecedently large number of reports were received from standing committees, which have been accumulating ever since the organization.
